Invention No.1 in C Major (BWV 772) for Oboe and Bassoon Bach, Johann Sebastian

About the artist

I'm a software engineer. Basically, I'm computer geek who loves to solve problems. I have been developing software for the last 25+ years but have recently rekindled my love of music.

Many of my scores are posted with individual parts and matching play-along however, this is not always practical. If you would like individual parts to any of my scores or other specific tailoring, please contact me directly and I will try to accommodate your specific needs.

Comment: This is the first in a series of 15 famous little finger exercises by J.s. Bach. This arrangement of the invention no. 1 in C Major begins with the Oboe playing a generally upward-lifting melody that seldom pauses, while the Bassoon provides a steady but obviously simpler accompanimental melody in the bass. Near the end, however, Bach writes a brief call and response passage, with the the two woodwinds gently tossing back and forth the half-bar m... (more online)
